

Standing Voice Privacy Policy

How we respect your privacy when collecting personal information

This Privacy Policy applies to information Standing Voice collects about individuals who interact with our organisation. It explains what personal information we collect and how we use it.

If you have any comments or questions about this notice, contact us at info@standingvoice.org.

PERSONAL DATA WE PROCESS

The following table explains the types of data we collect and the legal basis, under current data protection legislation, on which this data is processed.

Purpose	Data (key elements)	Basis
Enquiring about our organisation and its work	Name, email, message	Legitimate interests - it is necessary for us to read and store your message so that we can respond in the way that you would expect.
Subscribing to email updates about our work	Name, email	Consent - you have given your active consent.
Making a donation	Name, email, address, payment information	Legitimate interests - this information is necessary for us to fulfill your intention of donating money and your expectation of receiving a confirmation message.
Website functionality	Website activity collected through cookies	Legitimate interests - it is necessary for us to store a small amount of information, usually through cookies, to deliver functionality that you would expect.
Providing services to beneficiaries	Name, email address, phone number, address, personal information relevant to the service received or beneficiary research undertaken	Consent – active consent is given by the beneficiary. Legitimate interests – it is necessary for us to store beneficiary data to ensure our services are delivered to the high quality that beneficiaries would expect.

HOW WE USE YOUR DATA

We will only use your data in a manner that is appropriate considering the basis on which that data was collected, as set out in the table at the top of this policy.

For example, we may use your personal information to:

- reply to enquiries you send to us;
- handle donations or other transactions that you initiate;
- where you have specifically agreed to this, send you marketing communications by email relating to our work which we think may be of interest to you.

WHEN WE SHARE YOUR DATA

We will only pass your data to third parties in the following circumstances:

- you have provided your explicit consent for us to pass data to a named third party;
- we are using a third party purely for the purposes of processing data on our behalf and we have in place a data processing agreement with that third party that fulfils our legal obligations in relation to the use of third party data processors; or
- we are required by law to share your data.

In addition, we will only pass data to third parties outside of the EU where appropriate safeguards are in place as defined by Article 46 of the General Data Protection Regulation.

HOW LONG WE KEEP YOUR DATA

We take the principles of data minimisation and removal seriously and have internal policies in place to ensure that we only ever ask for the minimum amount of data for the associated purpose and delete that data promptly once it is no longer required.

RIGHTS YOU HAVE OVER YOUR DATA

You have a range of rights over your data, which include the following:

- Where data processing is based on consent, you may revoke this consent at any time and we will make it as easy as possible for you to do this (for example by putting 'unsubscribe' links at the bottom of all our newsletters or marketing emails).
- You have the right to ask for rectification and/or deletion of your information.
- You have the right of access to your information.
- You have the right to lodge a complaint with the Information Commissioner if you feel your rights have been infringed.

A full summary of your legal rights over your data can be found on the Information Commissioner's website here: www.ico.org.uk

If you would like to access the rights listed above, or any other legal rights you have over your data under current legislation, please get in touch with us.

COOKIES AND USAGE TRACKING

A cookie is a small file of letters and numbers that is downloaded onto your computer when you visit a website. Cookies are used by many websites and can do a number of things, e.g. remembering your preferences and counting the number of people looking at a website.

Where cookies are used to collect personal data, we list these purposes in the section titled 'PERSONAL DATA THAT WE PROCESS' above, along with other personal data that we collect.

However, we also use some cookies that do not collect personal information but that do help us collect anonymous information about how people use our website. We may occasionally use Google Analytics for this purpose. Google Analytics generates statistical and other information about website usage by means of cookies, which are stored on users' computers. The information collected by Google Analytics about usage of our website is not personally identifiable. The data is collected anonymously, stored by Google and used by us to create reports about website usage. Google's privacy policy is available at <http://www.google.com/privacypolicy.html>.

MODIFICATIONS

We may modify this Privacy Policy from time to time and will publish the most current version on our website. If a modification meaningfully reduces your rights, we'll notify people whose personal data we hold and is affected.

REVIEW

This policy will be reviewed annually and updated as necessary to reflect best practice in data management, security and control and to ensure compliance with any changes or amendments made to the Data Protection Act 1998.
